COURSE OVERVIEW

Film 80A “The Film Experience” is a course that helps students understand and reflect on the experience of watching narrative film. The course poses questions about the medium that an informed viewer might ask and devotes its time to answering those questions: how does a film work? Why does it move us or thrill us? What is the relationship between image and sound in movies? How did this film get to the screen, and what is its relationship to the society it comes from? What is “film” in a time when movies and media are changing? And what do we get from studying films?

Students are introduced to one key film each week, which is preceded by a short introduction. They will read preparatory material from the course texts before the film, answer a series of questions posed by the instructor after they see it, and will return two days later for a lecture which knits together the insights of the reading, the students’ own responses to the film, and places the week’s film in a broader context. Clips are a regular part of the lecture and amplify the points raised by the instructor and the text, offering students a range of other films that they might further pursue outside of class. By the end of the course, students will be able to understand salient features and contexts for the work they watch, giving them a basic historical, formal, ideological, and interpretive grounding in narrative cinema.

Our class time will typically include:

➔ Weekly screening and lectures. Each class period will begin with a lecture that contextualizes the week’s screenings and readings.
We’ll take 10 minutes after each screening to reflect and write notes individually about the film. This does not preclude note-taking during screenings. In fact, you are strongly encouraged to take notes during films. These short pieces of writing will be turned in and read and will count towards your attendance and participation grade.

Requirements for Receiving Credit

- Attendance is mandatory; punctuality is required. Four unexcused absences, excessive lateness, and/or excessive absences at screenings will result in a NO PASS.

- You are expected to inform the Instructor of any emergency situations that require your absence from class, and you are strongly encouraged to keep in touch with the Instructor about any absences.

- In order to receive credit for the class, students must turn in all assignments.

Grade Breakdown:

- ✓ Attendance & Participation 5%
- ✓ Exam 1 TH 10/13 scantron/short essay 20%
- ✓ Exam 2 TH 11/3 scantron/short essay 20%
- ✓ Exam 3 TH 11/22 (4-5 page essay) 35%
- ✓ Exam 4 TH 12/6, 7:30-10:30PM scantron 20%

Exams 1, 2, and 4 are given on scantrons and will also include several short-answer essay questions. You are responsible for purchasing and bringing the scantron exam to class on the day of the exam. We use ParSCORE form number f-1712 and it is available for purchase at the Baytree Bookstore. Scantron exams must be filled out with a no. 2 pencil. On exam days, you must bring to class: a blank scantron form, a no. 2 pencil, and extra paper.

All exams must be completed and turned in on time. In order to receive credit for the class, students must turn in all (4) exams.

Reading

- REQUIRED: available at the Baytree Bookstore

Other readings will be made available through the course website, as a downloadable pdf file.

READING IS TO BE DONE BY THE DAY IT APPEARS ON THE SYLLABUS

Review for final exam

FINAL EXAM
   TUESDAY 12/6, 7:30pm-10:30pm, MEDIA THEATER
A note on academic integrity, plagiarism, and intellectual work:

At the university we are continually engaged with other people’s ideas: we read them in books, hear them in lecture, discuss them with our friends, engage with them on a personal level, and incorporate them into our own writing. As a result, it is very easy to blur the lines between our own intellectual work and the work of others. But, it is important that we give credit where it is due. Plagiarism is using others’ ideas and words without clearly acknowledging the source of that information.

To avoid plagiarism, you must give credit whenever you use
- another person’s idea, opinion, or theory;
- any facts, statistics, graphs, drawings—any pieces of information—that are not common knowledge;
- quotations of another person’s actual written words and/or spoken words; or
- paraphrase of another person’s spoken or written words.

LAPTOP/MOBILE TECHNOLOGY USE

Laptops can be a useful tool in the service of teaching and learning, however, I ask that you use them productively and respectfully.
A few common sense rules:
1. Always set up your laptop computer before the beginning of class. Setting up the computer and booting it up can take a few minutes depending on what applications are set to open at startup. Turn off all other mobile devices before lecture begins.
2. Disable sound
3. During lecture and classroom discussion, you should not be connected to network resources. To do so invites many distractions - web surfing, email, chats, etc. Chatting or emailing during class is no more acceptable than talking on a cell phone during class time. Additionally, your networked screens are distracting to those sitting near and behind you.

If you are found to be doing anything other than note-taking (or sanctioned network activity) you will be asked to leave the class immediately and will be marked as absent for that day.
I reserve the right to further legislate laptop use in their classes. For example, you may be asked to close your computer during screenings or be asked to sit in the first two rows of the class if you are actively using your laptop.
